

Occupational Health Management

Medical Surveillance Exams

With the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) requiring the ongoing performance of medical surveillance exams, many companies turn to Health Resources as a valued partner for assistance with these important assessments.

We are experienced in identifying and administering the appropriate exams in strict accordance with OSHA guidelines, as well as efficiently and accurately documenting results for auditing purposes and proper medical record management.

We make compliance simple and manageable by providing indispensable support in:

- Reviewing, assessing, and standardizing testing protocols
- Developing customized, integrated testing and centralized reporting programs
- Streamlining the collection, management, and communication of data and results
- Ensuring consistency and professionalism in program design and administration